Nursing and Midwifery Clinical Supervision Training Course Directory

The list below should not be considered either an endorsement of these courses or an exhaustive list of supervision courses. Moreover, please note that a number of other organisations, including LHDs and colleges, offer clinical supervision courses so we would encourage you to do some research in your own area to see what is available. However we hope the list will provide a starting point for nursing and midwifery professionals to do their own research and find a course that suits.
