

Responding to Behaviours and Care Needs of the Person with Dementia

This module will help you to develop an understanding about the different needs and behaviours of the person living with dementia. Interactive content focuses on how to respond appropriately to different needs and changed behaviours.

The content supports a consistent application of person centred approaches when providing care for the person living with dementia.

Interactive content outlines how you can:

- recognise there are a variety of causes which may contribute to behaviours in the person living with dementia
- identify how to respond to different needs and behaviour using person centred care
- recognise the whole of team approach when caring for the person with dementia.

Improve care.
Enhance quality of life.

Complete your training now

Search for Responding to Behaviours and Care Needs of the Person with Dementia.

Course Code: 426921217

This module was developed in partnership with the Health and Social Policy Branch of NSW Ministry of Health.

