

What would you do if your privacy was breached?

Keep yourself and others safe.

Complete your training now.

Search for Privacy: It's yours to keep

Course Code: 326771159

All health workers have a responsibility to ensure personal and health information is protected at all times. Privacy protocols are regulated by law and your role in ensuring these are followed is vital.

Online training is now available to support health workers to recognise:

- the various types of privacy breaches
- the implications of these breaches to patients, staff and others
- the consequences of these breaches to staff, with regard to reporting and quality.

Mandatory Training Reimagined

A faster, more engaging way to do mandatory training*

*You may be targeted to do this training if you have not completed the course previously.