

Do you want to become an Allied Health Leader?

Future leaders receiving leadership education early in their careers are better equipped to develop in their roles, and more likely to progress to greater responsibility. This foundational module will empower allied health clinicians to lead and influence in their everyday work and explore ways to advance their careers.

Throughout this module you will discover:

- the value you bring as a leader to NSW Health
- how you can influence the future of allied health
- how you can shape your leadership potential.

A downloadable Reflective Journal (pdf) will help you uncover your unique leadership skills and plan your individual leadership pathway.

Plan. Believe. Achieve.

Realise your leadership potential today.
